

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

QUANTUM SOLAR POWER ISSUES COMMON STOCK

Santa Fe, NM (Market Wire) October 4, 2010 – Today Quantum Solar Power Corporation (“Quantum”) (OTCBB: QSPW) issued an aggregate of 1,060,000 shares of common stock to persons outside the United States (non-US citizens or agents thereof). The shares were issued in compliance with Regulation S of the Securities Act of 1933 and represent a portion of the $5,000,000 foreign private placement offering previously approved by the Company’s board of directors. There are no assurances that the remainder of the offering will be completed.

About Quantum Solar Power Corporation

Quantum Solar Power Corporation is developing a “Next Generation Device” (NGD™) solar cell technology. Quantum’s NGD™ is a patent pending, laboratory model that utilizes a new approach to solar power conversion with the potential to remove the necessity of utilizing expensive silicon semiconductor-based technologies. We believe Quantum’s NGD™ technology has the potential to match the efficiency of crystalline silicon PV at the cost of thin film PV. The anticipated NGD™ technology is free of any rare-earth element dependencies found in other current solar technologies. We believe Quantum has the potential to create solar cells (through manufacturing partnerships) at significantly less cost per watt than current technology. Quantum Solar Power is headquartered in Santa Fe, New Mexico and can be found on the web at: www.quantumsp.com

Forward-Looking Statements
